Some things just fit together perfectly
Some things just go together naturally
We need some things to make us feel secure, complete and whole
We need someone to help us be ourself and feed our soul

Who can we turn to, who will provide
All that we need just to stay alive?
Who can we turn to, who will provide
All that we need to survive?

A good book needs a story it can tell
A person needs a home in which to dwell
We need our friends to help us find our way and then we can be strong
We need to know what's right and how to turn from what is wrong

Who can we turn to, who will provide
All that we need just to stay alive?
Who can we turn to, who will provide
All that we need to thrive?

Pure, fresh air. Clothes to wear
Hope to end all despair
Freedom to play,
Some space to think our thoughts.
Water that's safe and then food that's enough for all.
Shelter and school, someone to catch us if we fall.

These are the things that we need to give,
So ev'ryone has a chance to live

Who can we turn to, who will provide
All that we need just to stay alive?
Who can we turn to, who will provide
What do we need to survive?
